SJSM ANGUILLA GIVES BACK

SJSM Anguilla, as one of the largest educational institutions on the island, is proud to give back to the local community. Recently, thru efforts of school's AMSA chapter and its current president, Christos Haralampus, together with the deans of the school and other AMSA members, paid a visit to the Blossom Center in Anguilla. The AMSA president, Mr. Haralampus, made a donation to the center on behalf of the AMSA chapter and SJSM faculty.

In addition to this donation, the school has decided to support the Ministry of Education in Anguilla in their fight for literacy by sponsoring this effort as well. A billboard of the school's sponsorship will be visible soon on Anguilla.
